CHINA PASSES THE HAT

It was to be expected that the Truman plan to check the advance of Communism in Greece would stimulate other nations to seek American funds, ostensibly for the same purpose. Such a request has now come in, from Vice President Sun Fo in China.
Dr. Sun says China may go Communist unless the United States helps, and that Manchuria, China's main industrial potential,
may come under Soviet domination.

In considering his request, it is necessary to note the significant differences between China and Greece. Not the least of these differences is the practical one of size. China's area and population are between 50 and 100 times as great as those of Greece, and the cost of effective aid to her—granting that such aid could be effective —would be proportionally greater.

There is less indication of Russian influence on Chinese than on Greek Communists. The civil war between the Kuomintang and the Chinese Communists began long before the war with Japan and seems to have changed little. If there has been widespread aid to the Chinese Communists by Russia, Marshall and other American diplomats who have been on the scene have not divulged the fact.

The government of China may be no worse than that of Greece,
but men like Generals Stilwell and Marshall, among others, have found it less willing to agree to reforms without which American aid would not be effective.

American taxpayers have a right to insist that any money this nation gives shall not be used to strengthen the grip of a one-party dictatorship, but to promote greater economic recovery. If the Chinese government will work out a constructive plan, American taxpayers might not be violently opposed to tossing a few millions in China's hat, but they are tired of paying wartime taxes for handout to other nations.

PARADOX

Senator Morse, the Oregon radical, and Senator Taylor, the Idaho self-styled ham actor, were the leaders of the filibuster which prevented an immediate vote on the President's veto of the labor bill. One spoke for nine hours and 59 minutes, the other for eight hours and 20 minutes.

This pair did not succeed in switching any Senate votes to Truman's veto, but may conceivably have boosted the margin by which the Senate overrode the President. Seldom has a chief executive been defeated by a vote of nearly four to one in the House and three to one in the Senate.

By a strange coincidence—or is anything strange in left-wing politics these days?—Morse and Taylor are the sponsors of a bill to limit debate in the Senate—that is, to put an end to filibusters.

Left-wing consistency, thou art a jewel!

There is speculation as to who will be Truman's running mate next year. If it's alliteration they seek, why not nominate a guy named Taxes?

tions, financed a new flood-control program, widened tax authority of municipalities, outlawed public-employee strikes as well as jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts, eliminated unemployment compensation to strikers, limited picketing to plant employees, raised teachers' salary minimums, and boosted the state subsidies for public schools by the sum of $48,000,000—bringing state aid to schools to the record figure of $200,000,000 a biennium.

The legislature also passed tax measures to finance the parts of this program which represented new expenses. The tax measures, however, followed very closely the official recommendations of Governor Duff, and therefore are hardly to be listed as legislative responsibilities.

Among the omissions for which the Legislature has received criticism are several matters which, under existing circumstances, now are mainly Federal concern. Side-tracking of rent-control proposals, of motor sale laws, of the FEPC bill, of the anti-Ku Klux Klan bill, and a host of similar "pet" schemes can easily be defended on two grounds: first, that existing state statutes already cover most of the situation, and second, that the Federal government has interfered so deeply into most of these matters that the solution for present difficulties in them can be found only when Uncle Sam either goes to the bottom of them, or withdraws entirely.

There are those persons to whom it runs against the grain that all of Pennsylvania once was, and a considerable part of it still is, what is known as a "blue law" state.

The majority sentiment in this Commonwealth believes, for example, that the Sabbath should be treated with respect; wants closer rather than looser supervision of liquor and beer; is deadly opposed to legalizing horse-racing.

Such special suggestions as permitting the sale of beer in ball-parks, authorizing local elections on the question of whether to permit professional hockey matches on Sunday afternoons, and to open up pari-mutuel race-tracks, naturally enough received an uncordial reception at Harrisburg.

Those who want to feel irritated that these trivia didn't get by are entitled to show their disappointment if they wish, and to express it in any language they choose—even to the point of forgetting that the Session accomplished a great deal of valuable legislation.

There is another viewpoint on these matters which is worth thought.

The General Assembly which just adjourned met during a time of great world crisis. The earth-wide battle between Communism and free government is approaching its climax. The American nation is about to become the strategic battlefield of that struggle.

Nationwide, we are in the throes of inflation; we have, within only a matter of months, gone through a labor crisis which could have wrecked our government and our economy; nationally, we are debt-ridden and tax poor; in our seething and dis-united social structure, we are plagued with a mountain of needed public works deferred by the War.

No legislature in Pennsylvania history ever met in a background of more troublesome and dangerous problems.

Those who sit back and look at the accomplishments made under these circumstances are apt to reach the conclusion rather quickly that the performance of the recent Legislature was superlative.

Republicans are entitled to a great feeling of pride in the record of the General Assembly at Harrisburg.

This country, he said, will do nothing

PRINCE RUPPERT, B. C. (INS)
—Prince Rupert's City Council is looking for a man to brave the wrath of housewives. The Council agreed to relieve a minor strain on the city telephone system by ordering that residents who have clothes lines affixed to telephone poles must remove them within 15 days. Otherwise the lines will be cut down by a city employee. Locating the proper man for the snipping job, however, is a problem.

FLEETWINGESTATES

"Bobby" Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Harrison, has been spending several days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bottomley, in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Wilhelm Friedrich, of Larchmont, visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Carter, on Tuesday.

KANSAS CITY, Kans., (INS) — Jeppers, a one-year-old duck, doesn't know he isn't a dog. Jeppers, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rabuse of suburban Kansas City, is the constant playmate of their three-year-old cocker spaniel, Stinky, and other dogs of the neighborhood. The duck east table craps with Stinky, runs after sticks and chases automobiles. He hasn't learned to simulate Stinky's bark yet, but he does know how to bite.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

SUMMER HAND-WORK: Real linen tablecloths, napkins, towels, scarfs, etc., are again appearing in the Snellenburg Art Needlework Dept. You may stamp them for rich cut-work embroidery, or with handsome cross-stitch stampings. Tablecloths are priced at $9.95 for size 64x72 ins., and at $12.95 for size 63x88 ins. Napkins are priced at 85c each. Towels are priced at $1.25, scarfs at $1.95 and $2.50. Do get busy now and have some beautiful finished pieces by winter. (2nd fl.)

INSECT WAR: Have your weapons handy when bug armies invade your gardens. The Snellenburg Garden Dept. has most effective sprays and dusts. One of the most effective is the "Bug Blaster" created in the Sherwin Williams Research Laboratory. The "Blaster", a long cylinder "gun" is filled with two pounds of death-to-bugs dust which is effective for flowers or vegetables. The gun is thirty-six inches long, so that there is no bending of a gardener's back. $1.95 complete. (1st fl.)

TAKE IT EASY in the summer! There are many short cuts possible in housework. Reducing laundry work is one of them. Using, in the children's room, bedsprings that require little or no ironing is one of the good tricks. Also, such spreads are excellent for summer cottages. The Snellenburg Bedspring Dept. has a nice bargain in these spreads—$1.98 for a double size measuring 82x105 inches. They are in the traditional "crinkle" effect, and come in cream white striped with rose, blue, or green. State choice when ordering by mail or phone. (2nd floor).

STUNNING CUSTOM-MADE slip-covers are being made by Snellenburgs. Materials have just arrived in a group named "Roxana" and are they lovely! All are different, yet all are related, so that your group will have a delightful variety. The "Roxana" group is composed of durable pre-shrunk gabardines whose motifs are gladioli and leaves in varying arrangements of groups and stripes. There is a choice of backgrounds in deep chocolate, hunters' green, chaireuse, gray. Besides, there are rich solid colors to match these printed backgrounds. Lovely! Prices differ, depending upon the patterns chosen and number of pieces, but the average living-room group will cost in the neighborhood of $89.50. (4th fl.)

P.S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT. 10169; Jersey—WA-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts., Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be hearin' from you! Faithfully, FAITH.

MAGICAL BEDS—magical because they appear or disappear in the twinkling of an eye and with a push! They're a real "Simmons" product, too, these beds, including the thick Simmons mattresses. The overall price for both is $29.75. Having a Simmons "Rollaway Cot" is like adding a bedroom to the house. Bring it out for the extra guest, and simply roll it into a closet when the guest goes. This bed is 2 feet 6 inches wide, is full length, has an aluminum finished base, helical tied springs. Yes, the mattress is an innerspring, too, with taped edges. The same cot 3 feet 3 inches wide is priced at $34.75. These beds are especially convenient in apartments. Snellenburg Furniture Dept. (5th fl.)

THEY'RE HERE AGAIN, artistic wrought-iron bridge-lamps at reasonable prices! The Snellenburg Lamp Dept. has some of these little beauties at a mere $6.95. The delicate designs are finished in ivory, and are suitable for any room. They come in both Colonial candle and in regular bridge styles, with sweet paper shades. The Colonial candle style has colored fonts in red, green or blue. The regular bridge has a drop light. (4th fl.)

YOU LIKED THEM, those nice little charcoal grills I told you about awhile ago. They are family fun, aren't they? Well, here's another, even more exciting because it has a greater cooking capacity, plus a work-table space. The grill space is 14 inches square, the table space is 13x17 inches. The grill is entirely of metal, with an attractive scalloped valance. Not only is there a broiling space there is a turn-spit for roasting! Use it in the garden or take it in the car for picnics, for its sturdy 29-inch legs fold like a cardtable! The price is very low for this type grill—$12.95. Now, cook and eat outside; have fun! Snellenburg Summer Shop. (4th fl.)

ANY AGE woman or girl should indulge in playsuits for summer gaiety. The right playsuit lifts the spirit. The Snellenburg Sportswear Dept. has a carnival assortment at this season of the year, at prices ranging from $7.95 to $25. I saw stripes, checks, plaids, prints, as well as light and dark solids. They come in sizes 8 to 15 and 12 to 16. I fell in love with a $16.95 check and a $14.95 pastel classic. And be very sure to see the unusual prints! (2nd fl.)

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Time For A Calm View

Washington, June 26. NOW that the Hart-Whitely bill has become the law of the land, it would seem a fine thing for both industry and labor to clear their hearts and heads of the feelings engendered by the long, bitter fight, and consider calmly not only the actual contents of the bill, largely obscured by the hysteria of the propaganda, but its spirit as well.

IN the first place, it would be exceedingly unwise for employers to get it into their minds that this law means there will be no strikes. That is ridiculous. Under this law strikes are not prohibited nor is arbitration made compulsory. It does not mean the end of strong unions and it opens no door through which employers can oppress their workers, fail to adjust sound grievances, pay inadequate wages, refuse to bargain collectively or in any other way revert to the unfair practices of other days.

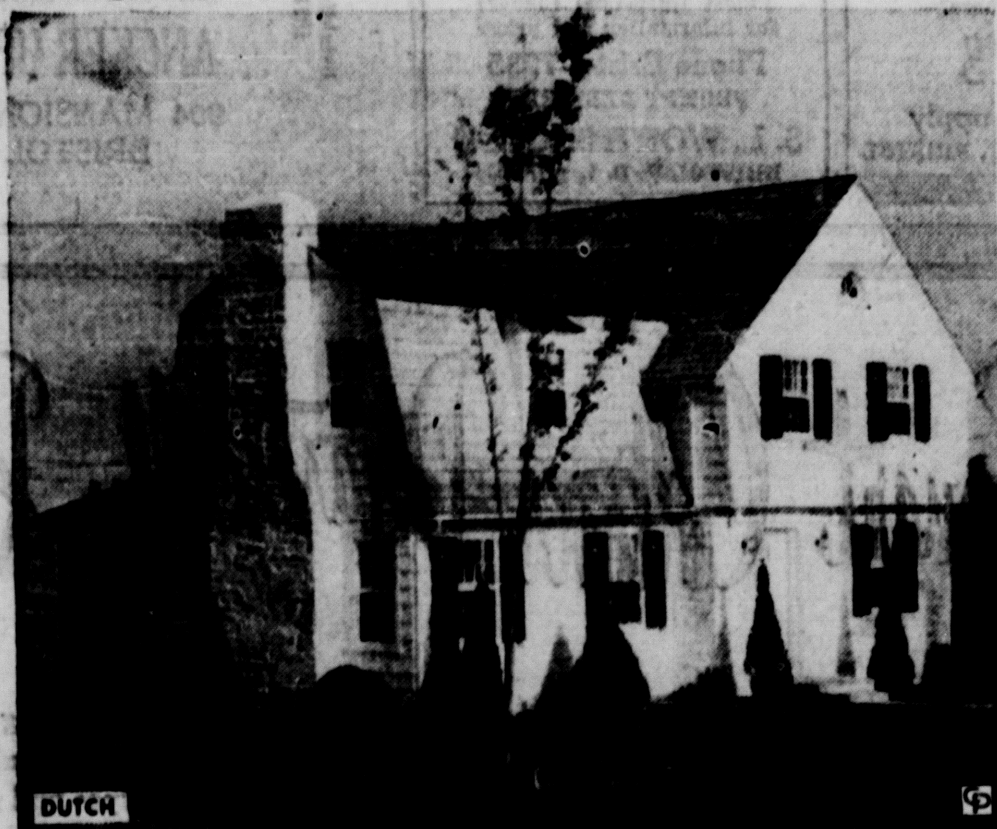

ON the other hand, the labor bosses will make a great mistake if they do not cease their silly misrepresentation of the law as having brought back "slave labor," reduced the unions to "shambles" and caused a "great national tragedy." There was no excuse for that drive before the final vote; there is less now. Labor has lost nothing to which it is rightly entitled. But the dishonesty and violence of its spokesmen were such that it is difficult for those responsible now to admit realities. Still, they ought to do so—not only in the interests of the country but of the interests and of themselves. Talk about defying the law is sheer Communism, inspired by the Communists, and ought to be intolerable to the millions of patriotic American workmen who constitute the union rank and file.

AS to the spirit of the bill, without being "punitive," "drastic" or imposing any inherent right of labor, Congress has tried to establish the conditions and procedures to make possible the peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes without resorting to ultimate recourse to strikes. If this has been done, it marks a long stride toward the eventual end of industrial war. And this will have been done if both labor and management accept the underlying intent of the law and seek in good faith to make it work as a program for peace. However, as Mr. Donald Richberg recently pointed out, if either labor or management insists upon continuing industrial warfare, the new law will prove inadequate and ineffectual. In that event, students of the labor-management situation such as Mr. Richberg prophesy that the next revision of labor law will impose more stringent obligations and more Government controls on both parties—which they will equally dislike.

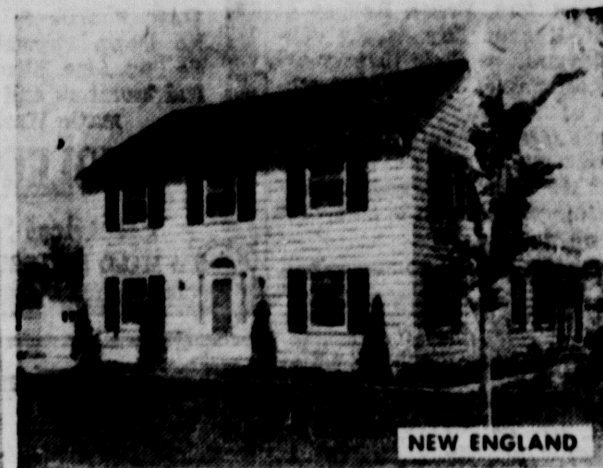

THERE is just no escape from that, and it is stupid for either the labor leaders or the business leaders not to recognize it. The plain fact is that the nation cannot tolerate much longer the incalculable losses and suffering caused by continuing industrial warfare. The present law is the outcome of an epidemic of

AMERICA'S PERENNIAL FAVORITE IS BUILT IN FOUR BASIC TYPES

Captivating Colonial

DUTCH

GARRISON

COTTAGE TYPE

HOUSE STYLES come and go, but the Colonial house is still one of America's favorite architectural types. While there are dozens of different styles of Colonial houses, most of these are adaptations of four basic types of Colonial. These are: New England, Southern, Dutch, and Garrison Colonial. Characteristics of New England Colonial are simplicity and symmetry. The windows are grouped around the main entrance which is located in the center of the front elevation. Double-hung windows are generally used, with small panes of glass. Southern Colonial is built with wide porches, with roofs supported by large columns. (Mt. Vernon is a fine example.) Generally, the Southern Colonial is large and should have a large, wooded lot. Dutch Colonial has the roof separated into two slopes, giving a low appearing house of 1½ stories. In early Colonial days, a type house was developed with the second story extending out beyond the first story, to make it easier to fight off attacks by Indians. This type is called "Garrison" Colonial.

reckless strikes for more pay and less work (113,000,000 man-hours lost in 1946) at a time when more production at decreasing cost was the only way to meet domestic and international demands, to avoid inflationary dangers and increase our national strength. The common reaction, Mr. Richberg states, was that "if organized labor understood the harm it was doing the general welfare, it was inexcusably selfish, and, if it did not understand, it was too ignorant and shortsighted to be left free from public restraints on the exercise of its power."

IF the new law is regarded—as it is—as an invitation or command to labor and management to lay aside weapons of force and coercion and use every available means to settle their controversies by peaceful methods, it will be found that neither party will be deprived of any legitimate means of protesting or promoting its interests. If private negotiations fail, the door is open for the Government mediators and, if that fails, finally the door of voluntary arbitration will be open, inviting those who cannot settle their disagreements themselves to submit them to impartial decisions. Actually, the new law provides an incentive for both labor and management to put men at the conference table and willing to talk sense, who can grasp a balance sheet and a household budget and understand a few economic principles—in brief, men who can persuade and be persuaded by facts.

IT ought to put an end to the labor leader who thinks if he does not call a strike every year he can't hold his job. And it ought to put an end to the employer who thinks he can make abnormally large profits without sharing them with the workers. To quote Mr. Richberg again: "If we were wholly civilized, we would not permit industrial quarrels to disorganize our industries and deny our people the necessities of life. But Congress, recognizing that we are only half civilized in this field, has not imposed compulsory arbitration.

Nevertheless, any labor leader or employer who refuses, under this law, to use a peaceful way of settling a dispute, will stand accused at the bar of public opinion of a refusal to perform his duty as a citizen. Perhaps he will be found 'not guilty,' but the burden will be on him to demonstrate that he has made every reasonable effort."

WHISPERING SINKHOLE

WEST PLAINS, Mo., (INS) — W. H. Smith, a Howell county farmer, was mighty puzzled when a 20-foot sinkhole appeared in the middle of his wheat field. His curiosity was aroused further when the hole began filling with water. A sounding indicated a depth of 84 feet. But he really was stunned when the hole produced a whispering sound. Smith theorized that the unusual noise was caused by the rising water which first appeared 35 feet below the surface of the hole and rapidly neared the top.

Crazy Hat Wins Refrigerator!

One of those "Breakfast in the morning" radio shows came to Capitol City last week, and Sarrah Carey won first prize for wearing the craziest hat in the audience. It was a full-sized refrigerator! (The prize, not the hat.) "Glad them hats of hers paid off at last," says Ed, treating the whole thing like a joke. But you could see he was proud of Sarrah. From where I sit, there's another thing Ed can be proud of: the way he's put up with those hats of Sarrah's, with never a criticism; just as she's put up with Ed's pipe and the other little freedoms he enjoys. They've got that refrigerator home now, stocked with beer; and we're going over tonight to drink a toast—not just to Sarrah's hats taking first prize... but to a happily married couple, who've learned to live with one another's differences in tastes—whether it's a taste for hats or beer!

1½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups cooked rice
1 package frozen peas, defrosted
Have duck cut into serving pieces. Single, remove any excess fat, wash and dry thoroughly. Roll in seasoned flour mixture, completely coating each piece with the flour. Brown slowly in hot fat. Remove from frying pan and arrange in a 2-quart casserole. Add onion, garlic and mushrooms to fat remaining in the pan and cook slowly, stirring frequently, until lightly browned. Remove from heat. Add wine, salt, marjoram and pepper. Pour over duck in casserole. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1½ hours, or until duck is tender. Arrange a ring of rice on top of duck and fill center with peas. Replace cover and bake 15 to 20 minutes longer, or until rice is heated through and peas tender. Makes 6 servings.
For seasoned flour mixture, mix together ½ cup flour, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon ground ginger and ½ teaspoon pepper.
Notes: One 8-ounce can mushrooms can be substituted for the fresh mushrooms. Two cups fresh or canned peas can be substituted for the frozen peas. If canned peas are used, decrease the final baking time to 10 minutes.

By the Rev. Charles H. Weller
Pastor
Bristol Methodist Church

O Lord and Master by whose grace we have found the Way, help us this day to give Thee first place in our thought and life. It is so hard for us to put first things first. We are so often confused by our own errors and the opinions of others. With the poet we would ask that, "In simple trust, like theirs who heard beside the Syrian sea, the gracious calling of the Lord, let us like them, without a word Rise up and follow Thee." Amen.

Monday evening. A social evening was enjoyed. Refreshments were served to: Mrs. Walter Kelly, Mrs. Peter Krings, Mrs. William Dougherty, Bristol; Mrs. Joseph Ward, Mrs. Harold Bahreburg, Edgely; and Mrs. Victor Roberts, Morrisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farruggio and children, Joseph and Jenny, Mansion street; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mangaracina, Sr., Lafayette street; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Marino and children, Farragut avenue, spent Sunday in New York City, visiting friends.

STRESS IMPORTANCE OF PA. AGRICULTURE

Astonishing Progress Noted On Part of Farmers In Recent Years

RETURNS ARE HIGH

(Prepared for The Courier by the State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce.)

A report on farm income released by the United States Department of Agriculture, reveals the astonishing progress made by Pennsylvania farmers during recent years, and the importance of the State's agriculture to its total income.

In the month of February, 1947, cash receipts from farm marketings in Pennsylvania totaled $64,399,000. This was the largest total of any state in the East, or of any state in the South Central area, except Texas, or any state in the Western and Mountain region except California. Even in the great farm belt of the middle West, Pennsylvania's February cash income exceeded that of Ohio, Michigan, North Dakota, South Dakota or Kansas. It was nearly six times that of Maryland, and more than three times that of Virginia, North Carolina or Georgia. A large part of this total was due to the sale of live stock and live stock products including butter, poultry and eggs in all of which Pennsylvania has a very high place in the Nation.

Though Pennsylvania is in many respects the greatest industrial State in our Nation, and the unquestionable leader in the manufacture of raw materials, the State's farms continue to play a vital part in providing a solid background for its prosperity.

In the last comparable year, 1945, the cash income of Pennsylvania's farms was nearly twice that of the clay, glass and stone industries, in most of which items, including the production of cement, the Keystone State leads every other part of the country. The farm products exceeded in value by more than 40 per cent the products of the State's shoe and leather factories and were almost on a level with the output of the paper and printing industries. In view of the fact that Pennsylvania is the home of some of the largest magazines and newspapers of our Nation, and of several nationally known paper manufacturers, this is a remarkable record for the men who till our soil.

TOWNSHIP SCALPS BELL'S ACES AND KEEPS THE LEAD

St. Ann's Loses To Hibernians On A Forfeit; and Terrace Wins

FOURTH WARD LOSES

Double by Langten, Error and Hit Baseman Lose for Croydon

With seven extra base hits to its credit, the Bristol Township team walloped the Bell's Aces, 14-1, on the latter's diamond, last evening, in a Youth League contest. The triumph enabled the Township team to maintain its lead on first place. In other Youth League tilts, St. Ann's lost to the Junior Hibernians on a forfeit, and the Bristol Terrace nine copped a close 2-1 game from Croydon.

Leading the attack for Township were Frank Elker and Dave Morrell. Elker had two triples and a single, while Dave had a single, double, and a triple.

LeRoy Lynch held the Bell's Aces aggregation to four hits. The Terrace lads were trailing, 1-0, until the fifth inning, when they scored two runs on two hits, a stolen base, and a fielder's choice.

A double by Langten, an error, and a hit batsman accounted for Croydon's run in the first inning.
